

TILAL BHERSAF VOTING COMPETITION

Students don't take NO for an answer!

Wednesday 5/09/2012, at 8AM sharp, started the voting competition for Tilal Bhersaf best interior/landscaping design.

We were pretty stunned with the creative styles used by the contestants to collect the votes.

Joseph, one of the competitors, replaced his profile picture with an icon saying "VOTE FOR ME" backing it up with Victory Slogans. Typical electoral campaign!

We heard a rumor that Rachel got hired by Facebook for performing a full time 24h job there!

Maher is spreading the news around the Globe; news say he is currently in CONGO preaching about his designs.

This competition has turned into a stock exchange market, the bid is getting higher, the tension is rising, and the challenge has reached an outstanding level!

The designs are innovatives, the motivation is overwhelming and the Hero of the story remains Tilal Bhersaf; this exceptional project located in the middle of Bhersaf splendide nature, 17 minutes away from all the hassles of the town and overlooking Lebanon's front window view.

Votes have exceeded 6000 on the fifth day only, and 3 teams seems to be on top of the ladder whereas others are trying their best to catch up the front-runners.

PLUS PROPERTIES architecture competition Facebook voting will end by the end of this month, leaving us with 20 remaining days of full action!

Good luck to all the participating students!!
